

Sciences des Aliments

AN INTERNATIONAL JOURNAL OF FOOD SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

INSTRUCTIONS FOR AUTHORS

SCIENCES DES ALIMENTS publishes original papers, research notes and reviews in French and English, in various fields of food science and technology.

Research notes (1,750 words, 2 illustrations, 10 references) are subject to an accelerated review procedure.

Exclusivity : manuscripts are accepted for review provided that the same work has not been, and will not be, published or simultaneously submitted elsewhere. Except in cases of refusal, authors are not allowed to submit their manuscript to another journal, whatever the nature of the changes requested by the referees, without the consent of the Editorial Board.

Manuscripts are submitted for review to two expert referees chosen by the Editor-in-Chief among the members of the scientific committee, or designated by him. The decision of the Editor-in-Chief is final.

Manuscripts should be typeset double-spaced on 21 × 29.7 cm paper, with margins of at least 3.5 cm at the top, bottom and sides. Only one side of the paper should be used. The pages and the lines of the text should be numbered.

Upon acceptance, authors are encouraged, where possible, to include with the printed manuscript the final version of the article on diskette (Macintosh or IBM PC 3" or 5"). Preferred wordprocessing softwares are Macwrite, Word, Wordstar, WordPerfect, Works, Writenow and Wyrwrite. In all cases, indicate the computer and software (specify the version) used. Please make sure that the hard copy of your article corresponds exactly to the version on the diskette.

At the beginning of each article, indicate the title of the article (it should not include abbreviations or chemical formulas), the names of the authors, preceded by the full first name and the initials of the other first names, the names of the technical assistants collaborating in the study, preceded by the words "with the technical assistance of", the full name and address of the institution where the work was done, a short title (running head) limited to 60 letters and spaces.

Specify the address for correspondence and reprint requests.

Articles should be presented in the following form :

Summaries

Summaries (not more than 200 words in the language of the article and not exceeding 500 words in the other language) should be in a suitable form for abstracting services. Please avoid paragraphs and footnotes. References and undefined abbreviations are not allowed.

Key words

Up to five key words should be supplied to facilitate information retrieval. Key words may be taken from the title, summary or text. Please avoid the plural form.

Introduction indicating the object of the study in relation to previous work in the field.

Materials and methods used should be given in enough detail to permit the reader to repeat the experiments.

Results, presented as briefly as possible.

Discussion and conclusions.

Acknowledgements of assistance, advice, support etc.

References

Tables and figures should be listed separately and numbered in Arabic numerals. Figure legends should be typed on a separate sheet in French and English.

The ideal position for tables and figures should be indicated in the margin.

Tables must be appropriate for widthwise (not exceeding 85 characters per line) or lengthwise insertion in the journal. Whenever possible tables should be replaced by graphs and their number minimised. The title of each table (in French and English) should be positioned above the table and the legend (in French and English) below the table.

Figures should be in camera-ready form on drawing or tracing paper. They should be prepared so that they can be reduced by half, the usable size of the journal being 12.5 × 19 cm. Lettering (symbols, numbers etc.) should not differ from figure to figure and should be of sufficient height (at least 3 mm) and thickness to remain legible after reduction.

Photographs : three sets of photographs are required. Prints must be well contrasted, glossy and of high quality. Photographs of line drawings should have a white background. Authors will be charged for colour prints.

Units of the International System of Units should be used (Legal Units of Measurements, International Document n° 2, OIML ; ISO Standard n° 1000 ; AFNOR Standard NFX 02-600). If another unit is deemed necessary, it should be indicated in parentheses after the SI unit. Inasfar as is possible, the symbol % is to be avoided. The expression "g/100 g" is incorrect. Mixtures are expressed in proportions (eg. 2:3:3) followed by the corresponding indications of weight or volume (eg. w:w:v).

References should be cited in the text as follows (DUPONT and DUVAL, 1954). When there are more than two authors, only the first author should be cited, followed by et al. At the end of the article, references should be listed by authors in alphabetical order and in date order for the same authors in the following form :

— Standard journal article

TAUREILLES C., ROBIN J.P., FLANZY C., 1992. Grape (Vitis vinifera L.) malate dehydrogenase. Partial purification and isoelectric heterogeneity. Sci. Aliments, 12, 649-663.

All listed references must correspond to references cited in the text and vice versa.

Manuscripts reviewed by the referees and the Editorial Board are returned to the authors. After correction in response to the referees' comments, papers (2 copies) should be returned to the Secretariat. For the parts of the article written in a language different from that of the author's, the journal reserves the right to make the final corrections that it deems necessary.

Proofs will be sent to the principal author. They should be carefully corrected and returned within one week of receipt. If this period is exceeded, the editor reserves the right to correct the manuscript and to forward it for publication without the author's corrections. Should substantial changes in the original manuscript be requested, they will be made at the author's expense.

Special services : language revision of a text is free of charge in French. Revision in English will be the responsibility of the author or will be charged for accordingly. Articles submitted in French can be translated into English by the journal's scientific translator. In cases of need, requests for financial help may be considered. The Editorial Board alone will review requests and decide on any sums allotted. Contact the Secretariat for further details.

Reprints

An order form is sent out with the galley proof.

Copyright : if the manuscript is accepted for publication, copyright will be assigned exclusively to the Publisher. No part of this publication (except summaries) may be reproduced without the prior written consent of the publisher.
